

New World Symphony (4th mov.)

Antonín Dvořák
Arr. Julian Kwoun

The image displays a page from a musical score for the piece "Anegro con rubato" by Carlos Chávez. The score is written for a large ensemble, including Flute, Clarinet, Violin, Cello, Classical Guitar, Piano, and Strings. The music is in 2/4 time and features a complex, rhythmic melody. The score is marked with various dynamics, including ff (fortissimo) and f (forte), and includes a "fast attack" instruction. The notation includes many accidentals and slurs, indicating a highly technical and expressive performance. The score is divided into two systems, with the first system containing measures 1 through 5 and the second system containing measures 6 through 10. The instruments are arranged in a standard orchestral layout, with the Flute and Clarinet in the upper woodwinds, the Violin and Cello in the strings, and the Piano and Classical Guitar in the lower woodwinds and strings.

Detailed description of the musical score: The score is written for a full orchestra. Measures 114-119 are marked 'Tempo I'. The woodwinds (Flute and Clarinet) play long, sustained notes with dynamic markings of f and ff. The strings (Violins, Violas, Cellos, and Double Basses) play a rhythmic pattern of eighth and sixteenth notes, with some triplets. The piano (Pno.) plays a complex, arpeggiated figure. The strings (Str.) play a sustained, low-frequency accompaniment. Measure 120 begins with a rapid sixteenth-note passage in the flute and violin, while the rest of the ensemble provides harmonic support. Dynamics range from f to ff. The key signature has one sharp (F#).
